US Weekly highlights GreenHouse custom grown denim as a “must have” of the week.

Los Angeles, CA—October 09, 2002-- GreenHouse Denim (GH) created by GreenHouse Studio, an innovative original art design firm, today was selected by US Weekly fashion editor as a “Must” have fashion ARTicle.

Artists, Sandra and Nick Florez create fashion iconography with GreenHouse denim. Each pair of custom grown denim is individually styled with hand detailing and original created art. Combining timeless elements such as vintage denim and original art creates an expression, which transcends trends.

The denim couture of GreenHouse Studio is featured in nationally recognized Bergdorf Goodman's much-admired artistic store window on 5th avenue owned by Neiman Marcus. Clients and celebrities are readily collecting the art pieces. Expanded distribution is planned for the forthcoming season in top tier retail and boutique establishments.

Brother and Sister artist team, Nick and Sandra Florez bring their passions, art forms, and vision for vintage to the forefront of fashion. As individuals, they do so through exploration of traditional and contemporary art forms, fashion, style, and a deep respect for self-expression.
